

Image not found or type unknown

Projektblatt Austrian Parliament

The new assembly hall of the National Council in the Austrian Parliament will be covered and illuminated with a steel and glass dome construction. In order to guarantee the manufacturer of the construction - the Roschmann Group - absolute security for planning and execution work, we measured the steel ring serving as the load-bearing base on the premises and reproduced it as a CAD-3D model. The assembly position of the dome brackets was then pinpointed down

